

Recording EDGE "Rules of the Road"

Recording EDGE works passionately to provide a safe, fun and creative audio recording experience. Since fun and creativity are defined by wildly varying definitions, and in order to continue to provide audio recording at extremely low rates, ground rules must be established.

- 1) Any damage to Recording EDGE equipment and/or loaned and/or borrowed equipment in the studio at the time the damage is incurred, and/or any damage incurred to the Recording EDGE building and/or facilities is the sole responsibility of the individual (Producer/Money Manager) or group with checking account.
- 2) Cleaning and repairs will be invoiced at cost plus any resulting studio down time that is a direct result from said damage or cleaning.
- 3) Food and Beverages are allowed in the studio and control room.
  - 3a) Refer to items 1) and 2) above when consuming food and beverages in the Recording EDGE studio and/or control room and/or building and/or facilities.
- 4) Personal equipment is the sole responsibility of the personal equipment owner(s)
- 5) Personal injury is not the responsibility of Recording EDGE, nor is Recording EDGE to be held liable for personal injury
- 6) Smoking is not allowed in the Recording EDGE facility at any time.
- 7) Recording EDGE reserves the right to terminate any arrangement or agreement at any time
- 8) Copyrights permissions are the responsibility of the client not Recording EDGE
- 9) Recording EDGE will not be held liable for equipment failures, data loss or any other acts of God. Further more, Recording EDGE will not be held liable for scheduling issues that result from same. Purchasing data backup device(s) is strongly encouraged.
